Land Acknowledgement

BUILDEX Vancouver takes place on land that is the unceded territories of the x̱məθḵ'əyəm (Musqueam), Skwxwú7mesh (Squamish), and Selilwiltulh (Tsleil-Waututh) Nations. It is important for us, the event organizers to recognize the people whom this place belongs — as settlers we are guests on this land. Acknowledging that colonialism and systematic racism persist today, let us celebrate the professional and creative practices that reflect the diversity and vibrancy of the many nations that gather here, and let this work support our collective change, healing and growth.

The past year has been a transformative one for the design industry. Supply chain issues and shortages of traditional materials forced many designers to adapt to ensure their projects were completed on time. The Interior Designers Institute of BC will be presenting 3 can't miss seminars on Wednesday! Join your industry colleagues at BUILDDEX Vancouver on February 15 & 16 and learn what solutions, new products, and new innovations are available for the design industry.

The past year has been an interesting one for residential and commercial property management. The residential market experienced low vacancies while commercial property managers were challenged with repurposing and redefining their assets to attract commercial tenants. Amendments to the Strata Property Act in November that removed rental restrictions and all age restriction bylaws (except for “seniors only” (55-plus) rules) impacted both strata owners and REALTORS®. Join your industry colleagues at BUILDDEX Vancouver on February 15 & 16 and learn what to expect for Vancouver’s residential and commercial market, the essential legislative changes for strata owners and managers, and more!
